INTRODUCTION FROM THE CHAIR

The introduction to the Music Commission's Annual Plan for 2020 – 2021, written in May 2020, began:

Music was among the first industries affected by COVID-19 and will be one of the last to recover to pre-pandemic levels.

As we report on the year covered by that plan, recovery is still far from being on the horizon. 2020-2021 saw parts of Aotearoa (primarily the largest music market of Auckland), under COVID restrictions negatively affecting the live music industry for over three months of the year. This not only had an impact on the financial resilience of the sector, but on its mental wellbeing, with anxiety and uncertainty being widespread.

2020 saw the Aotearoa New Zealand music market decrease, after year on year growth since 2016, with total revenue dropping by approximately 9% from $195m to $177m and the number of total FTE declining by 11%. The PWC Contribution of the NZ Music Industry report for 2020 shows the biggest decrease was in live music, which makes up 28% of music revenue in Aotearoa – but employs the greatest number of New Zealanders, where 53% of all music workers are in the live music sector.

Kiwi artists who had invested time and money in establishing international audiences and profiles found themselves grounded by the pandemic, and in most cases they are still unable to work overseas with confidence.

The Music Commission staff and Board were quick to respond to the challenges facing our music community, adapting their processes and roles as needed, and the Chief Executive played a lead part in the regular meetings of NZ's combined music organisations, as well as providing information and guidance to government and many individuals from the industry. The combined music organisations also produced a national Music Manifesto for the 2020 election.

Despite the impacts of the pandemic on education and businesses, both our Musicians Mentoring in Schools and Industry Internship programmes delivered record numbers of placements, with schools taking part in the Mentoring programmes reporting excellent impacts on NCEA assessments and 64% of Interns gaining paid work.

The Outward Sound export grants programme adjusted its focus to support international marketing and promotion, enabling artists to maintain their overseas audiences. Our International office also supported artists to attend international trade shows virtually, and produced five online showcases for global distribution.

On behalf of the sector, the Music Commission was proud and grateful to deliver $5.4m of much-needed targetted support from Manatū Taonga/Ministry for Culture & Heritage's NZ Music Recovery Fund, which undoubtedly ensured the survival of many people, careers and businesses in the music community.

To safeguard the infrastructure upon which our live performance industry relies, 86 music venues were supported across 26 towns and cities via the NZ Music Venue Infrastructure Fund.

The Aotearoa Touring Programme helped NZ artists, music businesses and audiences to sustain themselves through more than 1000 shows of all sizes in 91 towns and cities across the mōtu.

The Music Commission also invested in and assisted many initiatives focussed on growing industry capability to successfully operate during and post-pandemic, and to help the industry become more inclusive, safe and accessible, including major projects the Māori Music Industry Coalition, Oro Māori Music Strategy and Soundcheck Aotearoa, alongside a contestable Capability Grants Programme fund.

Artists who had suffered financial losses due to cancelled NZ Music Month and Outward Sound-funded eligible activity were able to recoup lost income and costs through Make Good Funds.

In early 2021, the Music Commission consulted with the sector in preparation for a new four-year Strategic Plan 2021 – 2025. Even before the pandemic it had become clear in the face of the low revenues non-superstar artists were deriving from streaming, that domestic touring was an increasingly important part of the sustainability of the industry. The impacts of on-going COVID-19 international travel and gathering constraints (which it seems likely will continue for some years), reinforced the need to support local touring – to grow and sustain both artists and audiences – and live music became a key focus of the Strategic Plan.

The Music Commission Board re-elected myself, Victoria Blood, as Chair and Deputy Chair/Finance Trustee Greg Bonnett to further two-year terms in March 2021. The Board adapted its meetings and processes to best suit the needs of the organisation during the year, with additional Trustee meetings being held in response to changing circumstances. The annual Board Self Assessment was undertaken in March/April 2021 with ratings remaining stable or slightly better than previous years. In December, Palmerston North music venue and studio manager, Harry Lilley, was appointed as a Board intern for one year. This internship is intended to both offer governance experience to the intern, and to bring fresh viewpoints and insights to the Board.

The Music Commission now begins work on our new Strategic Plan in an environment of continuing disruption and uncertainty for the music industry. We are proud of the way both our team of staff and Board, and the team of wider music organisations, have acted swiftly, empathetically, and collegially to deliver as much support as we can to a community very much in need, and we and the music community are grateful for the government's response to that need.

These challenging times are far from over and there will be new challenges to come, especially for a community that relies on public gatherings and global mobility. Music is integral to the cultural, social and economic wellbeing of Aotearoa, not just its music industry, and the Music Commission will continue, with the support of government, to do its utmost to support the resilience, sustainability and growth of NZ music.

BANDS MENTORING MENTORS 2019 – 2020

Ministry of Health and Ministry of Education directives around bubbles, social distancing, safeguarding procedures and schools' closure necessitated a strategic shift for the 2020 Smokefreerockquest and Smokefree Tangata Beats competitions. An 'On Screen' format was implemented, with video submissions to replace live performances.

Despite Aotearoa's COVID Level 4 lockdowns the entries from students remained strong.

In total the organisers had received 579 entries for Smokefreerockquest and an additional 57 entries for Smokefree Tangata Beats. Compared to previous years the number of solo entries was very high, in proportion to band entries.

The total number of students Mentored in 2020 was 1768 individuals. The impacts of lockdown, distancing and schools closures reduced the number of students participating, which is usually significantly over 2,000, as students were prevented from collaborating. In 2020 every solo, duo or band who completed a video submission received at least one set of written feedback/feedforward from a recognised NZ music industry Mentor.

Of the students surveyed 86% reported a strong or positive impact on one of the three targeted learning areas. Performance (musical techniques, instrumental techniques and presentation techniques) was the highest represented, with a 46% slice of the above.

Entries for both competitions were from regions across Aotearoa NZ. Entries for Smokefreerockquest were submitted from 21 regions, and for Smokefree Tangata Beats from 15 regions.

INITIATIVE 5: Supporting COVID-19 music sector recovery & regeneration – cont

NZ Music Month Make Good Fund: This fund will enable NZ artists and music businesses to apply for a contribution towards recouping lost income and costs incurred for activity that was scheduled to occur in NZ Music Month 2020 which was cancelled as a result of COVID-19.

The NZ Music Month Make Good Fund was $1million for events and initiatives that were booked to take place in NZ Music Month in May 2020 which were cancelled due to COVID-19. Fortunately, the majority of postponed events had not incurred significant costs prior to the March 2020 shift to Alert Level 4. Over 1,000 original NZ music events are usually held during NZ Music Month each year. These grants were capped at $50,000, and the remaining underspend is being held for potential future initiatives required due to COVID related Alert Level shifts or public gathering restrictions.

The Fund was available for recoupment of confirmed outlaid costs and to compensate fees for contracted work that was unable to proceed during NZ Music Month due to COVID-19. The Fund did not cover wages or other general business costs that were addressed through alternative initiatives in the Government's COVID-19 Economic Response Package.

This proved the most difficult fund to manage, with an unexpected volume of ineligible or incomplete applications received, and many applicants unable to supply evidence of their cancelled activity.

Multiple applications covered more than one artist or event. Between the 19 successful applicants, 43 artists, events or music businesses were the recipients of support.

"Your funding came at a vital time and helped the ITR navigate the enormous challenges encountered during these extraordinary times.

As we continue to navigate our way through these times, we will continue to look for opportunities to support NZ music and the arts by developing a strong programme of events, being positive and promoting NZ Music."

Outward Sound Make Good Fund: This fund will enable Outward Sound supported artists to apply for the reimbursement of costs and losses incurred for approved offshore activity that was cancelled or disrupted due to COVID-19.

The Outward Sound Make Good Fund supported artists who had Outward Sound grants where the artist had incurred offshore costs and losses, and international activity was cancelled or disrupted due to circumstances related to COVID-19.

All eligible artists were contacted directly by the Outward Sound team as previous recipients and grants were capped at $50,000.

The total investment for the Outward Sound Make Good Fund was $400,000. There was a small underspend, which will be held towards potential future initiatives required due to COVID related Alert Level shifts or public gathering restrictions.

NZ Music Venue Infrastructure Fund: This fund will enable music venues with a track record of original New Zealand music performances, both in the main centres and the regions, to apply for a contribution towards the costs associated with operating an environment safe for artists, audiences and staff. Grants of up to $50,000 will be available for expenditure that could include contact tracing facilities and security, and facility upgrades.

The NZ Music Venue Infrastructure Fund was for music venues with a capacity of under 1,000 for COVID-19 related health and safety measures and to support the infrastructure costs for original NZ music performance venues across New Zealand.

This investment provided music venues a contribution towards the costs associated with operating a live music venue with an environment which is fit for purpose and safe for artists, audiences and staff, and assisted in ensuring a viable ongoing touring circuit for original NZ music. The Fund was $3million, with grants capped at $50,000 for each venue, and minimum of 60 NZ music venues were to be supported via the NZ Music Venues Infrastructure Fund.

85 venues were supported across 26 towns and cities around New Zealand.

81 venues continued to fully trade; 3 venues have temporarily closed and stored their equipment (due to building lease or earthquake strengthening issues); one has ceased trading.

"The grant really has enabled us to plan for a sustainable future, rather than one that would have included us having to reduce our production offering. We are all so very grateful here at Flux for the work you have done."

Tier 3 Significant Production Fund (formerly World Class Production Fund): This fund will enable artists to apply for a contribution towards ensuring world class sound, lighting and staging production for shows with a significant audience capacity. There will be ten grants available over the next year.

The Aotearoa Touring Programme Tier 3 Significant Production Fund enabled artists or their representatives to apply for a contribution towards ensuring world class sound, lighting and staging production and COVID related safety costs for New Zealand artists' shows with a significant audience capacity. This was a one-off fund with a minimum of ten grants available until 30 June 2021, intended to encourage large-scale NZ artist tours and events over the months from March until September 2021 to provide access to significant sized local music performances for New Zealanders, and support concert production companies through the next phase of New Zealand's COVID recovery.

The Tier 3 Fund was specifically for the production costs of significant large-scale events and tours that had exclusively New Zealand music performers at venues with over 2,000 capacity per show, or combined capacities in excess of 8,000 for tours. For one-off events, the capacity was to be in excess of 4,000 and the grants were relative to the scale of the show/s. This was a matched investment programme. Applicants could apply for 50% of the eligible production costs up to $100,000.

Five projects have been completed, one was partially completed, and four have been postponed until 2022 due to Alert Level shifts.

"Touring artists is a challenging and risky business during the best of times. Without this support, many of our shows would not have been possible in this climate. As well as generating opportunities for the amazing creatives in this country, it also helps to sustain the wider ecosystem of the music industry. While borders remain closed, local touring and live events are more important than ever. Without it, there's no guarantee that the many people and organisations who work behind the scenes (venues, production companies and technicians, session musicians etc) will be around in the future when international touring at scale returns."

INDUSTRY INTERNSHIP PROGRAMME 2020 – 2021

It was again a disrupted year for the Industry Internship Programme, but significantly less so than the previous reporting period with all internships completed by 30 June 2021. There was a minimal amount of hours that had to be undertaken with Interns working from home due to Alert Level shifts early in the calendar year – which is positive, as a key benefit of the Programme is the worksite-based training and networks formed.

From the 26 Internships undertaken this year, 64% of Interns have either stayed on in paid work with their Host Organisations, or secured other paid work in the music sector.

Feedback from the cohort of both Interns and Hosts, including exit interviews, continues to be excellent:

- 100% of the Host Organisations said they would recommend other NZ music businesses apply to be a part of the Industry Internship Programme.
- 100% said that they were happy with the performance of their Intern.
- 100% said they would apply to Host an Intern through the Programme again if the opportunity arises.

31 Capability Grants Programme initiatives were supported in the year ending 30 June 2021. A number of the event-based initiatives have had postponements due to Alert Level settings, but all affected projects have rescheduled, with no cancellations to date.

The Capability Grants Programme focuses on a range of project types for different members of the music sector – these are:

INITIATIVE 9: Operation of the Outward Sound Programme Through providing a robust grants assistance programme that invests up to 50% of costs for representatives or artists to undertake offshore music market initiatives, NZ music projects will have an increased chance at success in overseas markets, foreign exchange earnings from NZ music will increase, and the profile of NZ music in international markets will improve. Until international border settings allow, the primary focus for Outward Sound will be supporting international promotion and marketing. Result: Four funding rounds were held and 100% of projects demonstrated capability to achieve increased overseas earnings (primarily through streaming services).	With international borders closed to freely travel since March 2020, the Outward Sound Programme has pivoted its focus to ensure the most useful support was being delivered to NZ artists and music businesses. Since April 2020, the Music Commission has recommended that all new Outward Sound applications focus on promotional activities, which are tied to an international release that had generated interest in overseas territories. This will remain in place until border settings change. Grants for promotional activities still required matching funds from the applicant. ORGANISATIONAL HEALTH & CAPABILITY

The Music Commission has a small staff and recognises that its people are its greatest organisational asset.

The operations of the organisation are managed by the Chief Executive and four senior managers - the International, Aotearoa Touring Programme, Education and Capability Managers. The organisation grew to 9.2 FTE to enable new services and responsibilities, however the work programme is still a very high output delivered for the number of staff – which illustrates the commitment and skills each team member brings.

FINANCIAL RESULTS 2020 - 2021 FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30 JUNE 2021

Variances of Note

- All Grant income is recognised when it is utilised, not when deposited. This results in a variance between the Initiative Reporting and the Statement of Financial Performance Income in all areas listed as Grants. For example for the Aotearoa Touring Programme there were grants approved to the value of $1,689,361. At 30 June, only $707,824 had been claimed and paid to date so this is the income value reflected in our Statement of Financial Performance. This revenue treatment was because our Outcome Agreement with the Ministry of Arts, Culture and Heritage 2020-2021 stated any unspent funds would need to be returned (NB: this was changed in a Variation to Agreement in October 2021).
- COVID-19 Alert Level shifts in continue to impact every area of operations for the Music Commission. In the past year, the health response restrictions in August, September and February (and smaller regional Alert Level shifts in March and June) have caused significant postponements and cancellations for both the organisations own work, and the work we invest in.
- International travel restrictions continue to affect the work of the International office. Due to the limited number of offshore showcase opportunities, and the significantly lower cost of online international events, a transfer was made of $186,500 from the Outward Sound budget allocation to the Aotearoa Touring Programme.
- $40,000 of revenue from the Ministry of Education from the previous financial year was deferred to this reporting period, as many Musicians Mentoring in Schools sessions were unable to go ahead in 2019-2020. This deferred revenue was utilised for an expanded programme this year, to catch up on previous postponements.
- Intermittent travel and gathering restrictions have required many projects or initiatives to be reconfigured for different Alert Level environments, postponed or cancelled. This again included cancellations, postponements, pivoting travel-based programmes to supporting web-based outcomes, and moving in-person programmes to occur online.
- The Music Commission waived advertising fees normally charged for the May Book and contributions towards the overheads for the NZ Music Month campaign; and the Host Organisation participation fees for the Industry Internship Programme.
- There are no non-COVID related significant variances.
- Overall, despite the unexpected events of this reporting period, the Music Commission finished the year in a strong financial position and is in a positive cash position for the coming twelve months.
