Programme Overview

The Industry Internship Programme is an initiative from the NZ Music Commission to help emerging music professionals and recent tertiary graduates gain experience and kick-start their careers in the music sector.

Interns are selected via an application process and offered a placement with a New Zealand music organisation or business that has applied to the Music Commission to host an Intern. Interns are mentored by their Hosts and develop skills, knowledge and industry networks during their placement.

Running since 2018, the Industry Internship Programme has successfully placed Interns into a wide range of industry roles each year – including working in recording studios, events management, live music venues, PR and publishing companies, and plenty more.

Who can apply to be a Host?

To host an Intern as part of the Internship Programme, you must meet the following criteria:

- Be a New Zealand-based music business or organisation.
- Have the capacity to host an Intern for the duration of the Internship Programme.
- Be able to provide a meaningful internship role, with a job description and clear expectations laid out. Interns should be involved in a specific ongoing project as well as given the opportunity to understand the wider scope of the business.
- Provide a mentor within your organisation who can support the Intern during their placement. That person will be on hand to answer questions, give advice, and help the Intern to identify their strengths and any areas they would like to up-skill in.
- Be able to provide an Intern with the tools and an environment they need to do their work safely and successfully.

Past Hosts have included:

Aston Road | Under The Radar | Recorded Music NZ | MMF Aotearoa | Moshtix | Morning People | Splore The Most FM | Depot Sound | DRM NZ | InDigiNation | Plus1 | The Tuning Fork | Darkroom

Do Interns get paid?

Yes! Interns are paid the 2027 living wage rate before tax by the Music Commission.

Host Contribution rates:

The Music Commission takes care of the administration and payroll for each Intern, with Host Organisations contributing 20% of the total cost of the internship. Hosts that are registered charity organisations contribute 10% of the total cost of the internship.

NB: Interns are not deemed to be an employee of either the Music Commission or the Host Organisation. Please also note that current or previous employees, staff or contractors of your business are not eligible to participate in the Industry Internships Programme.

When do Internships start, and how long do they run for?

While we try to be as flexible as possible, Internships are expected to start between January and March 2027. In some exceptional circumstances internships may start in December 2026. All Internships must be completed before the end of June 2027.

Internships are generally for 16 weeks and can be part-time or full-time hours as required.

NB: The maximum number of hours the Music Commission offers is 480.

How do I apply to host an Intern?

If you're interested in being a Host for 2026, please contact the NZ Music Commission at internships@nzmusic.org.nz. Once you've spoken with our team, you will then need to submit a short application form with an attached job description for the internship role you wish to fill.
